A New On-Screen Upgrade for Our Live Televised Mass!

Thousands of Appreciative Viewers
 Join Us for September 11 Live TV Mass
 Honoring 15th Anniversary of 9/11

We deeply appreciate the many kind comments and expressions of gratitude from the many viewers who tuned in to our live Mass telecast on Sunday, September 11, for a special Liturgy in commemoration of the 15th anniversary of the Attack on America in 2001.

The special Blue Mass honored the nearly 3,000 persons who died on that fateful day, as well as all who continue to serve the public as firefighters, police, and emergency medical personnel.

All local First Responders were invited to wear their uniforms to the Mass and were assigned a place of honor in the front of Saint John Gualbert Cathedral in Johnstown.

Evonne Yanzetich-Homway, Cathedral Director of Music and Chief Organist, prepared a special program of music appropriate for the occasion, reflecting the meaning and purpose of the event, as well as its implications for succeeding generations.

Our live TV Mass soon will have a new improved appearance thanks to two much-needed on-screen upgrades.

The first involves the installation of a new character generator, the electronic computer-based device which creates and displays all of the on-screen graphics during the Mass telecast.

The second and related upgrade centers on a new Mass opening, which establishes the theme and atmosphere for the Liturgy.

The immediate need for the new character generator became evident when our present unit, more than a decade old, crashed a few weeks earlier. Our Chief Engineer Joe Delso did a quick search of the internet and found a used unit similar to ours in Rochester, New York, and had it sent to us by Express Mail Overnight.

After several hours of work over a two-day period Joe was able to get the equipment on line in time for our Blue Mass telecast on September 11.

Meanwhile, we are ordering a new state-of-the-art generator incorporating the latest advances at a cost of $7,000.00, which we hope to have in operation by the end of October.

At the same time, Dale and Becky Wicks, owners of WIX PIX Productions of suburban Johnstown, are in the process of preparing a new Mass opening designed to give a fresh perspective to our live telecast.

Dale and Becky have always been friends of our TV Ministry through their support and the donation of their creative skills and used equipment.

Thanks, Joe, Dale and Becky for everything!

Appreciative Viewers Join Us For 9/11 TV Blue Mass

The Greater Johnstown Diocesan Festival choir under the direction of Evonne was enhanced by Lisa Pierce on violin and Anastazia Hall on trumpet and Organ creating a spiritual and patriotic sound.

In keeping with a long-standing tradition, the liturgy opened with the playing of bagpipes by Neil Brett and the Presentation of Colors.

Members of the All Saints Assembly #954 of The Knights of Columbus served as the Honor Guard and Jr. EMT Samantha Schilling was one of the Readers at the Mass. Mary Jo Swank was the Cantor and Maxwell Varljen was the Psalmist. The Presentation of the Gifts was made by three police and EMT representatives. The Liturgy was celebrated by the Cathedral Rector, Very Rev. James F. Crookston.

In his Homily, Father Crookston quoted remarks from First Responders who played a central role on September 11, 2001, reminding viewers and those in the Cathedral of their bravery and dedication in the face of disaster.

Following the distribution of Communion, the congregation and the choir joined in an inspiring rendition of God Bless

America, bringing to a close a memorable full-hour live telecast that fittingly commemorated a sorrowful but heroic day in American history.

A number of churches held special events to remember that day of terror 15 years earlier, but we feel ours was exceptional, thanks to the members of the Music Ministry, the congregation, and the First Responders who joined us. Most of all we thank the dedicated volunteers of the TV Ministry who brought the Blue Mass to thousands via WATM-TV ABC 23 and the Cornerstone TV Faith and Family Channel.
