Second Sunday in Ordinary Time

Jesus turned and saw them following him and said to them, "What are you looking for?" They said to him, "Rabbi" — which translated means Teacher — "where are you staying?"

John 1: 35-42

RVs4MDs

Dr. Mark Quale is an emergency room physician in Burlington, North Carolina. Like many health care workers during the pandemic, Dr. Quale has been putting in 70- and 80-hour weeks at his hospital — but just as stressful has been the fear that he might bring the virus home to his wife, young boys, and mother-in-law. So, when he would come home, he would strip off his scrubs on the porch and walk a specific route to a bathroom cordoned off by a tarp where he would shower.

However, now, Dr. Quale isolates himself in a 31-foot-travel trailer parked in their yard. The loan of the trailer is the work of RVs4MDs, a Facebook group organized to connect health care workers with RVs so they can isolate themselves near their homes. From a critical care nurse in Boston to an ER doctor in Lynchburg, Virginia, RVs4MDs has matched health care workers with RVs, trailers, and campers in their area. To date, the group has matched 1,500 RVs with nurses, doctors, EMTs, and paramedics around the country.

RVs4MDs began in April when Emily Phillips posted a request on her Facebook page asking if anybody had an RV her family could borrow for Emily's husband, an ER doctor in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Holly Haggard replied, offering her family's RV to the Phillips. Emily and Holly realized they were on to something and the two women created RVs4MDs. Within a week of posting their idea on Facebook, hundreds of RV owners signed on.

Before the arrival of Holly's RV, Emily says, "I was a nervous wreck. Every time my husband walked in the door or put his hand on something, I thought we were going to get (COVID-19), including my baby. However, now that he is in that RV, I am back to my life, focused on my full-time job and my kids, and it has completely changed our situation."

Dr. Quale and his family in North Carolina were matched with an RV from Kelsey and Tim Webb. The two families had never met, but Tim Webb drove his trailer for almost three hours to the Quales' home. The Webbs gave the keys to the Quales, telling them they could use the trailer as long as they needed it.

Renting their RV is a source of income for the Webbs, but Kelsey Webb says donating it to the Quales was a "no-brainer."

"This family was in need, and this was the one way we could help," Kelsey says. "You cannot put a price tag on this . . . It just makes my heart happy that we can do this for them and give them peace of mind."

In today's Gospel, the first disciples meet Jesus and ask where he is staying — "Come, and you will see." Jesus dwells in every place where all are welcome and cared for; Jesus makes his home where everyone is assured a place; Jesus stays wherever compassion and forgiveness are readily offered. Jesus' "place" includes RVs and campers offered to provide a level of security and safety to medical personnel and their families during these difficult days. May our homes become fitting dwelling places for Christ to "stay," where all are received with humble generosity and honor as we would welcome Christ himself.

Pro-Life Ribbon Campaign Before and after all Masses on the weekend, January 16/17, the Christian Life and Service Committee is conducting its Yellow Ribbon Campaign to support Pro-Life The annual March for Life will take place on Friday, January 29, in Washington DC. Due to health concerns during the pandemic, you may join the March online at <https://marchforlife.org/national-march-for-life/>. Thank you for your generosity in supporting this effort.
